ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

2007 – Current	University of Kansas Assistant Professor and Assistant Research Scientist Department of Psychology and Center for Gerontology
2004 – 2007	Washington University School of Medicine Faculty Research Instructor Alzheimer's Disease Research Center Department of Neurology
2001	University of Missouri – St Louis Instructor Gerontology Program in Psychology
2000	Washington University in St. Louis Teaching Assistant Department of Psychology

EDUCATION

2003 – 2004	Washington University School of Medicine Postdoctoral Research Fellow Alzheimer's Disease Research Center Department of Neurology

1996 – 2003 Washington University in St. Louis
Doctoral PhD in Clinical Psychology, emphases in Aging and Neuropsychology
Advisor: Martha Storandt, PhD
Dissertation: Negative Affect and Bias in Aging

Masters of Arts, Clinical Psychology (Awarded 5/99)
Advisor: Martha Storandt, PhD
Master's Thesis: A Discourse Analysis of Logical Memory Recall in Normal Aging and in Dementia of the Alzheimer Type

2002 – 2003 St. Louis VA Medical Center
Psychology Intern: Advanced clinical training as partial fulfillment of the doctoral degree. Rotations included Geropsychology, Neuropsychology, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder Clinic, Medical Psychology, and Program Evaluation.

1992 - 1996 Columbia University
Postbaccalaureate Premedicine Program

1986 – 1990 Washington College
B.A. in International Studies, concentration in Latin America

FUNDED RESEARCH GRANTS

P30 AG035982 (Swerdlow/Johnson) 08/15/2011 – 06/30/2016. University of Kansas Medical Center Alzheimer's Disease Core Center (ADCC): Promotes and supports clinical and translational research into neurodegenerative disorders leading to prevention and treatment strategies. Role: Director of Neuropsychology in the Clinical Core.

MJFox Foundation (Galvin/Johnson) 08/15/2011 – 06/30/2016. Defining Cognitive Phenotypes of Parkinson's Disease: Translational research in Parkinson's disease targeting early diagnostic signs of the disease that will identify specific biomarkers of cognitive decline. Role: Neuropsychologist.

R01 AG033673 (Burns/Johnson) 01/01/10 – 12/31/15. Aerobic Fitness in Slowing the Progression of Alzheimer's Disease: Investigate protective of role of cardiovascular fitness on cognition in dementia of the Alzheimer type including neurologic, psychiatric, psychometric, and imaging data. Role: Neuropsychologist.

R01 AG034614 (Burns/Johnson) 11/01/09 – 10/31/12 Interventions to Remediate Age-related Cognitive Decline: Dose-Response Study of Exercise in Older Adults. Foundation cite of a national clinical trial to investigate protective of role of cardiovascular fitness on cognition in dementia of the Alzheimer type including neurologic, psychiatric, psychometric, and imaging data using a randomized controlled 6 month clinical trial. Role: Neuropsychologist.

DHHS/Kansas Dept on Aging (Niedens/Johnson) 11/01/09 – 5/31/11Dementia Crisis Support Program - A Bridge Project: Exploratory grant to investigate and characterize mental health outcomes of people with dementia in crisis. Project places 2 LCSW's with geriatric specialty training in 4 Administration on Aging (AoA) districts to offer mental health crisis support to people with dementia. Measures participant adjustment and functional outcomes. Role: Treatment evaluator.

University of Kansas, Lifespan Institute Behavioral Neuroscience Initiative (Johnson) 08/15/10 - 08/14/11. Functional Neuroimaging of Prose Recall in Healthy Aging and Dementia. To detect changes in episodic memory in healthy and pathological aging, this project uses fMRI to compare patterns and magnitudes of activation for prose comprehension in young adults, healthy older adults, and very mildly demented older adults.

University of Kansas, New Faculty Graduate Research Fund (Johnson) 08/15/10 - 08/14/11. Neuropsychology and Aging Laboratory - Assessment and Research Toolbox. This award built necessary research infrastructure in my laboratory to conduct clinical-cognitive assessments and develop its computing and data analytic capacity.
